STATE NEWS.

A red gander has made its appearance in the vicinity of Salisbury.

The Field Crop Premium List of the N. C. Agricultural Society has been published.

Hertford Academy was burned on the night of the 6th. Ashes left in the building carelessly.

The Presbyterian Church of Milton has called the Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald, of Hillsboro, to its pastoral charge.

The town of Apex, on the line of the Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line Railroad, was started in 1872. It now has a population of 200.

On Sunday last, in Newbern, little Willie Harrison, on behalf of his class, presented to the M. E. Sunday School of that city a splendid organ.

In Newbern Emancipation day was duly observed by the emancipated. The Newbernian compliments the colored people upon the order and decorum observed.

The committee appointed by Episcopal Convention to select a location for the Diocesan College met at Charlotte last week and decided upon Morganton, Burke county.

Mr. Ball, Rad. Editor of the Greensboro New North State says: "In our opinion, Sheridan is the very man for the place and the times. President Grant knows his man and is fully aware that he can depend upon him in an emergency."

The Goldsboro Messenger says: "We learn that the Old Fellows Hall, in this place, is to be dedicated on the 19th inst. The ceremonies are to be public. Major Seaton Gales, of Raleigh, is expected to deliver an address on the dedication ceremonies."

The tobacco planters of Caswell county have burned their plant-beds for the next season, and the indications are that an unusually full crop will be planted. The high price of the leaf is the stimulating cause of the large preparations for the next crop.

The latest snake story comes from Salisbury. The Watchman says: "The smallest reptile ever put on exhibition is now to be seen at Mr. Theo. F. Klutz's drug store in this city. It is between twelve and fifteen inches long, but not much larger than a horse hair. It is quite lively."

The Reidsville Enterprise says: Application will be made to the present Legislature for the charter of a Railroad from some point on the Raleigh and Gaston Road, to the Western or North Western boundary of the State. Said Road to pass by Oxford, Roxboro, Yadonville and Reidsville to Wentworth.

The Windsor Times says: A colored man by the name of "Simmons" was brought to jail at this place last Sunday morning, charged with murdering his wife. The case seems to be a strange one. The man says, so we learn, that he did nothing to kill her. He had simply hugged her.

The Charlotte Observer says: It was grown on the model farm of J. W. Wadsworth, Esq., about a mile from the city. On two acres there were produced 1,000 pounds of lint—making two bales of just a little less than 500 pounds to the bale, on an acre. This is a remarkably large yield.

The Wilmington Journal says: Captain R. P. Waring, Senator from Mecklenburg, and Mr. W. J. Yates, editor of the Charlotte Democrat and a Director of the Carolina Central Railway, are expected to arrive in this city to-morrow evening, and on Tuesday will go down the river to visit the works for the improvement of the river and bar. It is understood that this visit is to be of an official nature.

The Raleigh News says: The important suit heard before Judge Watts a few days since, the State vs. C. D. Upchurch, indicted for failing to list the poll tax, has been decided in the Superior Court. A verdict of guilty was entered by consent. A motion was made to arrest judgment for want of jurisdiction in the Superior Court, it being claimed that the Magistrate only had jurisdiction in the premises. Upon the hearing of the case Judge Watts gave it as his opinion that the judgment must be arrested, for that decision an appeal was at once taken by the State to the Supreme Court, and that body, desiring to give the matter immediate attention, heard the argument in the case yesterday morning, pending which argument the Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

The Lincoln Progress says: "Our people are discussing the propriety of permitting an amendment to the charter of the Carolina Central Railway, which has perhaps been forfeited by the non-completion of the track to Shelby by the 1st of January, last past; Gaston, Lincoln, Cleveland and York in the West, and Anson, Union, Richmond, Robeson and New Tanover in the East, are very much interested in the tariff of freights that may be adopted. It is suggested to call a meeting of the citizens of Lincoln county at the court house for Thursday next, (the 14th), to take some action in the matter. We would also suggest a meeting of the other counties named so that the Legislature on re-assembling might know the views of their constituents and act accordingly."

It is rumored that Senator Goldthwaite, of Alabama, will be compelled, on account of ill health, to resign his seat, in which event it is thought that the Hon. John Forsyth, editor of the Mobile Register, will be selected by the Legislature of Alabama to fill his place. Many United States Senators may have dabbled in journalism in their political infancy, but this would we believe, be the first instance of promotion direct from the editorial sanctum to the United States Senate.

Choice Stock Groceries at R. B. Anson's.

The New York South says: Amount of cotton received by the merchants of Wilmington during the month of November, 620 bales; an increase of 70 bales over the month of October.

Tarboro beats that a long ways. What say the Journal and Star?

The item of cotton rope for plow lines seems a little rope. In the aggregate it is worth keeping at home. Orders from Battle & Son's Rocky Mount Mills, Rocky Mount, N. C.

A GRAND BALL.—Was given complimentary to Hon. T. J. Jarvis and Lady on Wednesday evening last. The Greenville Court Band discoursed music for the occasion, and we learn the affair was a very pleasant one indeed. Mrs. Jarvis saw Miss Mary Woodson was a former resident of this place as our citizens will remember; late of Richmond, at the time of her marriage.

An elegant lot of English Casimires, at Farrar's.

THE WILMINGTON JOURNAL.—We unintentionally omitted to say the Messenger congratulating our excellent contemporary—The Wilmington Daily Journal, on its 23rd anniversary, which closed with the old year. With the new year the Daily Journal began its twenty-fourth Annual Volume, and the weekly Journal its thirty-first Annual Volume. Long may it wave!

AMEN.

BEIRTS.—Lawyers and newspapermen are flocking to Charlotte.—Exchange.

All right. We are willing. Too many down this way.

Burke county discusses Convention on Saturday, at Morganton.

Palaw! No use in discussions. The question is now settled. The Convention is a certainty.

It is Daddy Farman, now, of the Asheville Citizen.

Shifting the "responsibility"—dressing the lady.

Blood isn't nothing; money and clothes is what tells.

Too bad! That man and his wife who kissed each other before company to the day and got in a fight ten minutes afterwards.

Several young bloods, drew out of the Temperance society a few days before the holidays set in. It is time for them to return now. Everything is quiet and there is a dearth of "Raddy strappings young and sleek, With blush of Bacchus on their cheek."

Why do we not get the Wilson Advance offered than once a month?

In passing the word, a youth says it "goes boys and girls with the girls." Correct. Don't you think so, too, sweetheart?

From the weather during the last three or four days we would guess it was Winter in good earnest.

Wasn't it "sleeky."

Did you ever hear a doctor chuckle? Yes. Well, didn't you hear several chuckle this week when too-legged animals would stop—then "down" break a skull—half dozen bones—and didn't they smile with a sardonic smile at the thought of the 20 dollars fee!

A nose broken at Sparta this week. Oh, the shock, the terrible shock.

Our exchanges were in great demand this week with the ladies. They made quite a battle over them. The sheet was terrible you know and was "sleeky," too; but our "down" business had to be attended to, and folks sit down rather unconsciously sometimes and like to do so as softly as possible, but—well, we didn't mean to tell on 'em.

The first job work at cheap rates can be done at the Southern-Enquirer Job Printing office.

The most fashionable veil is the net scarf veil, and it must be long enough to wrap around the neck, as well as cover the face.

All good people take their home paper, and believe in it as they believe in their church, their courthouse, or their postoffice. It is an institution. It interests every one, from the minister of law to the school and apprentice boy.

The sawdust on the street crossings lends much to the convenience of pedestrians. Thanks to Constable Hyatt.

Everybody complains of mud. We shouldn't wonder.

We have a new name for those Depot boys who regulated Tarboro on Christmas night.—Sheridan's.

The cars on the P. & W. R. R., recently were supplied with bibles placed in iron racks, which were labeled "Bible-Read and Return." A good idea. We read the American Bible Society furnished those good books.

Feather collars are just out. They are for street wear, and have long ends trailing down in front like the scarf.

A swell at sea is very much like a frown ashore; both are apt to sick.

We have received the first number of the Children's Friend, published at the Oxford Orphan Asylum, and edited by J. H. Mills, Esq. It is the spiciest sheet we have read in months, and the editor promises to make improvement.

There appears on the fourth page of to-day's paper a very touching and beautifully written poem on the death of our beloved Stenwall Jackson. Read it.

Ramsey, the Temperance Apostle, gives it as his opinion that the most reasonable explanation yet ventured is that Sheridan was laboring under morbid excitement. Not much. The D—W was in him.

Education begins the gentleman, but reading, good company and reflection must finish him. Chesterfield never wrote words more significant than these.

At last—Fair weather.

BUSINESS.—We learn from the Battleboro correspondence of the Norfolk Landmark, that General Taylor, col., entered the house of Bill Gunter, col., in Edgecombe county, last week, while no one was present, and took therefrom $40 in money. But by the early discovery of the burglary, most of the money was recovered though he escaped before a warrant could be served.

100 Bbls Flour for sale by R. B. Anson.

LUCKY.—The editor of the Wilson Advance drew a $355 lottery and harness in a Norfolk lottery. Now if somebody would give him a horse and a little farm to raise corn on he would be all right.—Messenger.

If you allude to Jimmie Williams, Bonny, we rise to amend that he won't be all right till one of the very fair daughters of Wilson takes pity on him and gives him herself to ride with him in his fine buggy—and if certain rumors are true, it will not be a long time either before he is all right. Eh, Williams?

Buy your heavy 4-4 Brown Sheet, your Cotton Yarns and your Plow Lines, of Battle & Son's Rocky Mount Mills.

CAPT. R. A. WATSON.—Of the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railway made a flying trip to this place last week. He was looking well and expressed himself as pleased with his new place. The Tarboro Branch seems unnatural without the genial face of Capt. Watson and if another change is ever made in the Conductorship, we hope the position will be given the old captain who filled it so satisfactorily to the people at large for a number of years.

MISTAKEN.—The Washington Echo says a colored man by the name of Napoleon Patterson, a former resident of that town, was shot in or near Tarboro a few days ago by another colored man (name unknown), and that he has since died.—Wil. Star.

Correct in the premises, gentlemen; but mistaken in the conclusion. Don't be in too big a hurry to get Napoleon dead. He has been shot, it is true, but is doing very well at present, and will be able, we hear, to be out in a few days.

CAPT. HAYWOOD CLARK.—The numerous friends of this young gentleman will be pleased to know that he has been appointed Conductor of the Tarboro Branch Train in place of Mr. R. E. Whitehead, who has been promoted to the Agency at this depot. Capt. Clark's disposition to perform his duty to his employers to the letter, together with his polite and accommodating turn will make him popular and respected both by the Company and our citizens.

PERSONAL.—D. B. Taylor, East Carolina's correspondent of the Petersburg Index and Appeal has the following to say about the retiring editor of the Southern:

E. R. Stamps, Esq., has sold out the Tarboro Enquirer-Southern to W. P. Williamson and J. G. Barlow, who will take hold on Jan. 1st. Mr. Williamson has already earned reputation as a writer in connection with the State press. Mr. Stamps' "dipping pen" will be grievously missed, and the bright smiles will leave his friends when he takes himself to the dull routine law practice at Milton, as is said to be his intention.

You will always find the largest stock of Pork, Flour, Bacon, &c., at Farrar's.

JOHN EATON BLEDGEMORE.—We notice among the twenty-two lawyers licensed by the Supreme Court Tuesday before last the name of our former client John Eaton Bledgemo, Esq., of Raleigh. Bledgemo is a young gentleman of 30 years, and will make his mark in the learned profession of which he is now a member. While at Richmond Hill, under Judge Johnson, his standing in his class was eminent, and this, together with his legal training, caused him to be highly respected and esteemed by his fellow students. We wish him much success through life.
